Summary: On June 17, 2004, Garith Krause of the Merced Irrigation District (MID) met with Pres. Peevey in San Francisco. Also present were Roosevelt Grant, advisor to Pres. Peevey, and Ken Robbins and Dan L. Carroll, outside counsel to MID. Written material (attached to the notice) was used. MID representatives explained that exit fees for greenfields customers are serious issues for MID and that unlike any other publicly owned power provider, MED has a nonexclusive service area that completely overlaps Pacific Gas and Electric Company's service area. MID representatives explained further the reasons MID became involved in the retail electric business. MID representatives explained that MID has undertaken approximately $100,000,000 in debt to build its system, which was incurred based upon the reasonable assumption that MID would be able to serve load within its District boundaries without facing issues such as those posed by exit fees for greenfields customers. MID representatives argued that as PG&E's rates have dropped while MID's have stayed at their current level due to MID's own 'exit fee' components in its rates, competition is skewed if MID's greenfield customers must pay PG&E's exit fees for power crisis costs while also paying for MID's power crisis costs.
